Eve stands as a versatile and confident British voice-over artist, dedicated to bringing scripts to life with captivating narration and expressive delivery tailored to diverse needs. Drawing from a foundation in musical theater, formal vocal training, and stage acting, she has refined her skills to deliver engaging and authentic performances across various genres.

Originating from Cornwall, UK, Eve's passion for storytelling and performance emerged early in her life. Her journey took her abroad to Hawaii, where she deepened her appreciation for the power of the spoken word through involvement in musical theater and eventually transitioning to voice-over work. Since 2015, she has consistently delivered professional and compelling voice performances, characterized by a voice that is cozy, savvy, indulgent, and understated, leaving a lasting impact on listeners, including notable work for Kaua'i's KONG Radio.
